Unable to Work!

NO APPETITE!

COULD NOT SLEEP!

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

COMPLETELY CURED HIM.

Mr. T. J. Dunn, of Waterville, Ad-
dams County, Maine, writes:

"Two years ago, I had an attack of indigestion and liver complaint and lasted for weeks. I was unable to do any hard work, had no appetite, food distressed me, and lost much from insomnia. My skin was yellow and sleep did not refresh me. I tried several remedies and consulted a doctor without obtaining any relief, nearly all of my remedies recommended Ayer's sarsaparilla. It helped me from the first—in fact, after taking six bottles I was completely cured, and could eat anything and sleep like a child."

UNITED STATES.

The National Prohibition Convention at Pittsburg was a noisy gathering. There was a fierce contest over the currency question, and the free silver faction won the day.

The Bay District race track at San Francisco has been closed after being in use more than 21 years. On the closing day the horse Thorntail broke the three-mile record, untouched for twenty years, in the time of 5:26½.

The Senate defeated the proposition to increase the beer tax 75 cents per barrel by a vote of 34 to 27.

At the Methodist Conference at Cleveland, Lieutenant Governor Mansur of Vermont secured the privilege to make a report for the committee on arbitration, which authorized the secretary to communicate with the President and ask the Government of the United States to enter into negotiations with the powers of Europe with a view to forever preventing the repetition of the Armenian outrage. It carried without a dissenting voice.

American workmen employed in Windsor, Ontario, have signed a petition requesting Senator Milligan of Detroit to work against the bill excluding Canadians who work in the United States.

The schooner Lincoln has been lost in Alaskan waters with passengers and crew numbering about thirty persons.

The House by a vote of 105 to 69, passed the bill for the repeal of section 61 of the present tariff law, providing for a rebate on alcohol used in the arts or medicinal compounds. The reason for the measure was that frauds were common under the section.

News of the recent storms in the Middle States reports scores of lives lost in many sections.

Pastor Hermans of the Scandinavian Methodist Church, Salt Lake, is believed to have murdered Miss Hegelieta Clausen and buried her body in the basement of the church.

Rep. Howard of Alabama introduced a resolution in the House impeaching President Cleveland, but he was promptly suppressed by the other members. He is believed to be deranged.

By the explosion of the reservoir attached to a gasoline stove in Chicago a family of six persons was almost exterminated. The father and three children were killed, another child will probably die, and the mother is severely burned but will recover.

SUGAR BOUNTIES PAYABLE.

A decision of the Supreme Court makes appropriations for sugar bounties valid. The San Francisco Chronicle says: Mr. Carlisle's "available cash balance" loses $5,257,000 at one fell blow. Its misfortune has been brought about by the Supreme Court of the United States in declaring the appropriations made to meet the provisions of the sugar bounty law valid, and therefore compelling Controller Bawler to pay the claims which have accrued under that act. These claims amount in the aggregate to the sum stated. They are mainly held by the cane and beet sugar growers of the South and West, who have been kept out of their legal dues for over a year.

ESTATE BURDEN.

James C. Dunham murdered six persons in the house of Colonel H. P. Gilney at Campbell's settlement near San Jose, California. Their names are: Mrs. Hattie Dunham, the murderer's wife; Col. and Mrs. McGlinney, Robert A. Briscoe, James L. Wells and Miss Minnie Briscoe. Mrs. Dunham was the daughter of Col. and Mrs. McGlinney. The murderer escaped, and Governor Dadd offers $500 reward for his capture.

EUROPE.

Oxford University intends to confer the degree of honorary D. C. L. upon the United States Ambassador, Thomas F. Bayard, and upon John Morley and Joseph Chamberlain.

M. Bourgeois, the late Premier, speaking at a meeting as the leader of the Radical opposition, boldly advocated a revision of the Constitution giving the Chamber of Deputies alone the power to upset ministries.

A Berlin dispatch says: Mr. Danigheld's anti-microbeion was introduced this week in the hospitals of Vienna, Frankfort, Breslau and Leipzig, where the subcutaneous method was replaced by the digestive treatment. In all, 1,452 patients have been treated by the new method. One case was a thirty-two-year old epileptic, scrofulous consumptive, whose weight increased thirty-three pounds within six weeks.

While in Germany Li Hung Chang intends to visit the Krupp works at Essen, where he will place orders for guns, etc. The Chinese statesman will also visit Prince Bismarck.

There is much comment on the fact that the representatives of the Cologne Gazette, hitherto in the most influential of the semi-official papers, have been forbidden access to the royal castle and court by order of the Emperor, who is incensed at certain attacks on his personal entourage. The Cologne Gazette is now in the curious position of being directly and indirectly inspired by the Hohenlohe Cabinet, and yet placed upon the blacklist by the Emperor.

THE CORONATION.

His majesty, Emperor Nicholas Alexandrovitch, autocrat of all the Russias, and her majesty, the Empress Alexandra Fedorovna, were solemnly crowned in the Cathedral of the Assumption at Moscow on May 26, with the utmost ceremony and in accordance with all the religious forms and ancient rites.

The Czar's manifesto, issued upon the occasion of his coronation, remits all arrears of taxation in European Russia and Poland; reduces the land tax by one-half for ten years, and remits or reduces all fines; quashes all petty convictions involving imprisonment or fines up to 300 roubles, with the exception of persons sentenced for robbery, embezzlement, usury, extortion, fraudulent bankruptcy, or offenses against honor. Graduated remissions and ameliorations of sentences are granted to exiles in Siberia. Refugees from the Polish rebellion, who were not guilty of murder, cruelty or arson, are exempted from further police supervision and are granted full freedom in the choice of residence, provided they take the oath of allegiance.

HIGH OFFICIAL QUARREL.

A London dispatch of May 23 says: Wednesday's trooping of the colors upon the occasion of the official celebration of the Queen's birthday was a great function, but it was nearly spoiled by a fall between Lord Wolseley, the present commander-in-chief, and the Duke of Cambridge, the former commander-in-chief. It appears that the latter expressed his intention of attending as a royal Duke and Colonel-in-Chief of the army, and claimed precedence over Lord Wolseley, whereupon the latter declared that neither himself nor his staff would attend. The deadlock caused much excitement, and the matter was finally referred to the Queen, who found a way out of the difficulty by directing the Prince of Wales to receive the salute at the parade. As heir apparent the Prince had precedence over everyone, and Lord Wolseley gladly waived his claim to take the salute by right of office. In the army generally there is much satisfaction that Lord Wolseley stood up for his rights.

LEGISLATURE IN SESSION

STILL CONSIDERING THE REFUND.

TAX AND BOND DEBTS.

House of Representatives to a no-nothing till the Senate gets through with them.

NINETY-THIRD DAY, JUNE 5TH.

THE SENATE.

In the Senate this morning Minister King reported that the President had signed the act relating to Internal Taxes.

Senator Baldwin reported back House Bill 51, concerning spike, with an amendment. Tabled for consideration with the bill.

Senator Holstein from the Judiciary Committee reported on House Bill 57, concerning the printing of notices to creditors, recommending the same be laid on the table, as being entirely in the interest of the Hilo Tribune. Report accepted to be considered.

On the order of the day Senate Bill 18, known as the refunding bill, was read the third time and again referred back to the committee for consideration of section 13, with instructions to report at the afternoon session.

Senate Bill 54, making special appropriations for the use of the Government for the two years ending December 31, 1897, was read the third time and referred back to the Special Committee.

Minister Cooper's bill making additional appropriations for unpaid bills of the department of Education, passed second reading with an amendment providing for $100 for rent of rooms of the Chinese Y. M. C. A. for school purposes.

Senate Bills No. 20 and 21 to provide for public loans, came up on second reading. The bills provide for the issuing of $2,000,000 in bonds at 5 per cent redeemable not less than five nor more than twenty-five years from date of issuance, to be issued from time to time as provided by the legislature. The Minister of Finance is authorized to grant a commission of 3 per cent and in cases where $100,000 or more of the bonds are taken at any one time a further commission of 1 per cent.

House Bill 57, concerning the advertising in the matter of claims against the estates of deceased persons, was laid on the table on a motion to adopt the report of the committee.

House Bill 51, changing the duties on sake and still wines, with the amendment proposed by the Committee on Commerce, was taken up on second reading. The amendment reduces the duties imposed by the House from $1.00 on wines containing 9 to 14 per cent alcoholic strength and $2.00 on wines ranging from 14 to 12 per cent, to one-half those amounts, viz., 50 cents and $1.00 per gallon.

Senator McCandless said 50 cents would be so low as still to bring that class of wines in competition with those in California. Sixty cents would be high enough to prevent that and still not be prohibitory. He moved to make the amount 60 cents, and the amendment being accepted by the Committee the bill passed second reading.

The House amendment to the bill concerning the storage of Hawaiian wines, making the measurement by the American gallon instead of the Imperial, was concurred in.

Senator McCandless' motion to take the bill relating to using cancelled postage stamps from the table only received three votes and the bill consequently still remains under the clerk's care.

Recess to 2 p.m.

The session of the House of Representatives lasted only a few minutes this morning, no important business being transacted.

WILLIE MOSSMAN CAUGHT

HE ENDEAVORED TO GET AWAY ON THE KAHULUI.

But Unfortunately took a Police man into his Confidence and Went After a Parting Drink.

The police have been on the lookout for William Mossman, who left Maui between two days last week. He was out on $1000 bail on a charge of cattle stealing and was to be tried at the Wailuku term of Court which commences tomorrow.

When Mossman's absence was discovered Sheriff Andrews was afraid he would get away on the Australia, and sent word to the Marshal by a whaleboat in order to have him stopped. Mossman did not get away on the Australia, but he had things fixed to leave on the steamer Kahului this morning. Captain Scott had the matter in charge, being well acquainted with Mossman and his previous escapades. He placed a Maui police-man in plain clothes at the wharf where the Kahului was lying with instructions not to leave the vicinity of the vessel unless he had Mossman with him. About noon the Maui man saw Mossman sauntering down to the steamer. Mossman immediately came up and entered into conversation with him, asking him what he was doing. The Maui man said he was out of a job and looking for a chance to get away on the Kahului. Mossman said he was going to get off on the steamer also and it was arranged for them to go together. Mossman proposed going up town to get a parting drink and the Maui man was only too willing. They went to the Empire saloon and ordered their drinks when Captain Scott walked in. The Maui man whispered to Mossman, "That's Captain Scott, I wonder what he wants?" Mossman replied, "I guess he is after me," and Mr. Mossman was perfectly correct in his surmise, as he was at once escorted to the police station.

He will be forwarded to Maui by the next steamer to stand his trial, and his bondsmen will be relieved when his appearance in Court takes place. Mossman took his arrest very coolly, at first denying that he was the man wanted and saying that his name was Howard. He had somewhat of a jag on at the time of his arrest.

CARRIER PIGEONS AT SEA.

Two Pairs of the Birds Lost Off the Australia.

In a mention of the experiment being tried with the carrier pigeons on the Oceanic steamers, the marine reporter of the Chronicle says:

"Manning will send his favorite pair to sea on the next trip of the Australia or the one following it. Already two pairs of well-trained pigeons have been lost off the Australia, one being set at liberty about 500 miles from land and the other pair was let go at a point 300 miles out. None of the birds ever came home, though they had accomplished handily over land several times. First Officer Lawless of the Australia expresses his doubt as to whether the carrier pigeon can be made to travel any great distance over water, but nevertheless Manning is so confident that the birds he now has in training will accomplish the feat that he has stated his willingness to bet a good round sum on their success."

A feature of the population statistics of Western Australia is the large proportion of males to females. The disparity is maintained in the arrivals by sea. At present there are forty-five females to every 100 males.
